

Roman Baths Scavenger Hunt

Tick the box when you spot it.

AT THE ROMAN BATHS MUSEUM

☐

The Great Bath

the big open-air green pool

☐

The Sacred Spring

bubbling hot water, sometimes steaming

☐

A Roman coin

on display in the museum

☐

A carved stone face

the Gorgon's head, or the goddess Minerva

☐

A curse tablet

a note to the goddess, written on metal

☐

Stone columns

tall round pillars

☐

The word "Sulis" or "Minerva"

written somewhere in the museum

☐

Green water

algae makes the Great Bath look green

☐

The Pump Room

an elegant 18th-century room by the baths

☐

A statue on the terrace

figures standing above the Great Bath

Bonus — for stronger students

1. Find the number: what temperature is the spring water?

2. Why did the Romans throw coins and curses into the water? Write one sentence.

3. Describe one thing you saw today, in English, in your own words.

We'll compare what everyone found in the debrief tomorrow!